First impressions of Connie (Sonography Now, ELN, Sparrow)

The first time I met Connie, we were collaborating in an informal setting over a couple of days regarding developing a strategic partnership with my company and her companies, Sonography Now and Equip Leaders Now. It was a joyful and productive experience between her and Alston-Kline, Inc..

I was impressed with her vivaciousness, drive and dedication and her uninhibited love for her work and for quality change.

But mostly, at the time I thought to myself: "I have never seen so many ideas come out of one person at a time, in my life." "She's an idea machine." "If these seeds take hold; wow, what blessed fruit!"

We became fast friends, colleagues and collaborative partners in our common work in the PMC community. We continue our collaboration today, but in a different format. I have become part of the Sparrow Solutions team as the Client Services Director and could not be more grateful to be working with such great purpose and mission with, Connie and team.

Connie is truly a visionary, catalyst, and industry changer. The approval of her gifts are seen by the fruit that is ripe to be picked. Her quest for God's will, is a blessing to me personally and I know to all those which she comes into contact.

First impression? Idea machine; seed planter.

Now impression? The same with the revelation that the organization had grown in services and knowledge that fulfill an eternal purpose in the Kingdom that I believe pleases God.

And that is the blessed fruit.
