Connie Ambrecht

Business owner, instructor, grief and loss coach, professional coach, peer, team member, and leader. Connie shines in each of these roles, modeling success for others and encouraging and empowering them to radiate too. Passionate about life, her faith is the core of who she is and drives her approach to every encounter.

Connie has been providing ultrasound exams and teaching sonography since 1978. Having started at a hospital in St. Louis, then moving to a private office and sharing her time with St Louis Community College as Clinical Instructor, she discovered her joy in teaching.

When she began volunteering at a PMC in Marietta, GA in 1998, Connie realized another desire; to serve others using her medical profession. As she reached out in her community, she began to better understand the needs of people in the decision making process related to pregnancy. That involvement also led to her to begin serving women and families internationally in a humanitarian or mission platform.

Connie now serves as CEO of Sparrow Solutions Group. What started as a service, based on a recognized need, has grown into a multi-branched service and training organization. This group Connie has founded and leads, has been in over 700 PMC's, with a team of consultants and trainers that possesses over 200 years collectively of experience in various areas.

Sparrow Solutions Group follows Connie's lead, and together desires to join local PMCs and other providers in their desire to serve with excellence.
